For the prevention and cure o
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, on the the 3d inst. Negro JEM, about 5 feet 5 inches high, 25 or 26 years of age, stout and well made, except that he is perhaps a little knockkneed; his complexion dark, has a large scar on the upper lip, occasioned, it is said, by his falling, when a child, on some edged tool; has a down look when spoken to, and is apt to be short and insolent in answering. The clothes he took with him are not recollected, except a red flannel shirt, a pair of Russia duck sailor's trowsers, and a coarse wool hat with broad brim, nearly half worn. Having gone off without any provocation, it is probable his intention is to steer his course towards Baltimore or Pennsylvania, and pass for a free man. He has hauled the seine the two last seasons in Pomonkey, where he may have gone, or perhaps to Alexandria, where he is also a little acquainted. If taken 20 miles from home, or out of the county, I will give 20 dollars for securing him in any gaol, or if taken 50 miles from home, or out of the state, I will give the above reward of fifty dollars. Baltimore Hospital, 24th August, 1818.

THE board of visitors have much pleasure in announcing to the public, that within the last eighteen months, a large and elegant addition has been made to this valuable institution, in the erection of the East wing of the building. This wing is 152 feet in length and 36 in width, with an extensive Southern projection at its extreme East end. It contains between 30 and 40 apartments, admirably calculated for the accommodation of every class of patients. Of this number are several large and airy wards, intended particularly for the reception of seamen, and well adapted to their various diseases. These different rooms and wards will be warmed by open fires, and by heated air thrown into them, from furnaces constructed on a safe and improved plan. Arrangements will also soon be made, for lighting the apartments in the entire building, with gas.

The unwearied exertions of Doctors Mackenzie and Smyth, the attending Physicians of the Hospital, in their attention to the construction of the building, and their care of the sick, have given a character to this Institution, which is now inferior to none in the United States. In the short space of six years, a most noble establishment has been erected—a thing without parallel in this country. It is well known, that above half a century has been consumed, in bringing the Hospitals of New-York and Philadelphia to their present size, and it is admitted by many gentlemen, who have visited these Institutions, that the Hospital here, is by far the most extensive, the whole building being now 360 feet in length.

The daily increase of the sick in the Hospital, renders it absolutely necessary that the new wing should be furnished; and every exertion is now making, to have it completed, before the cold weather shall set in.

The visitors at their late meeting, examined the Institution with much care—the apartments of the sick in the private infirmary—those in the lunatick asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen in the Marine Hospital—and they assert with confidence, that the sick and afflicted of every description are well accommodated and carefully attended. They have seen at their different meetings, the private patient comfortable: the wretched marine humanely taken care of; and the sailor, disabled by age, wounds and sickness, well provided with suitable medical assistance, and with every other comfort which his condition may require. Indeed the agreeable situation in which this very useful class of men are placed, does much credit, as well to the Director of the Marine Hospital, as to the attending Physicians, to whose immediate care they are entrusted. Every praise too, which the visitors can bestow, is due to Mr. & Mrs. Gatchel, the Stewart and Matron of the Hospital, for the neat and clean manner in which the House is uniformly kept, and for their care and attention to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment.

Before they conclude this account of the Hospital, the visitors would invite the attention of their fellow citizens throughout the United States, to the Anatomical Cabinet of Wax Preparations, by Chiappi, which certainly far surpasses any thing of the kind ever exhibited in this country; and will afford to those whose curiosity may lead them to see how "fearfully and wonderfully they are made," but more especially to the medical student, a fund of useful information.

The Hospital is under the care of the following medical gentlemen:

French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL for GIRLS.—With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pikeland and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniencies for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages; nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.—The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1818.

To Curio:

Solicitous as I always am to lighten the burdens of the heart, and soften the afflictions of the mind, I could not refuse myself the pleasure of sending you what I conceive a debt due to uncommon merit. You accuse the world of a want of sympathy in the rapturous anticipations and highly wrought expectations of those whose "violent sensibility and delicate feelings" are exasperated by the consequences of habitual castle-building. You ought to be reminded, that according to your own views of the feelings and comprehension of mankind, your finely turned periods, in the exhibition of your over-delicate intellectual tact, must be completely inoperative.

The structures of the castle builder do not tend to the security of his own felicity, I think you acknowledge; and unless you are mistaken in your estimate of men, your literary labors can have no sensible effect or object but to show how prettily you can complain, and how softly you can censure. You say, thoroughly to understand the principles you would inculcate, "it is not enough that a man should derive from nature a nice sensibility of soul,—he must have acquired a sufficient knowledge of the human heart to be master of all the various inlets by which it is vulnerable and susceptible of pain, of those various operations of the mind by which its sufferings are exasperated." Without stopping to remark the nonsense of the phrase of "vulnerable of pain," we need only say that if such men can only comprehend your system, it seems as perfectly wild to expect the conduct of mankind could be influenced by such a morality, as any project which has occupied for a moment the most indolent and unfashioned fancy. This is so manifest, that it would be but following example and writing to no purpose, to attempt an extended illustration: the smallest attention verifies the observation.

But do not imagine I have not the strongest commisseration for ills flowing from the uncommon softness of your temper.—Every thing you touch becomes liquid immediately. Your man of feeling is not satisfied with letting loose the reins of imagination: but you say, "he pours out the whole length of the reigns of his glowing fancy." The toughest substances melt in the warmth of an irresistible sensibility. "What then must be the torture of such a person, so susceptible of enjoyment from an illusory expectation, on finding the wings of his hope suddenly clipped, and, together with all his fond imaginations, plunged into a gulf of disappointment?"

The idea of a man looking into a gulf of disappointment after the wings of his hope, which have been torn from the body and thrown therein, with woeful visage, and in despairing attitude, is a bit of true sublimity, and equals any thing to be found in the great masters of the bathos. "A large share of his sanguine anticipations, perhaps, are built on the exercise of benevolence." The agreement of your nouns and verbs is as exact and grammatical as your philosophy is sound and incontrovertible.

Your capacity, I fancy, Curio, is much better suited to the erection of castles in Spain, than to the instruction of a nation in new and refined principles of social morality.

PHILO-VIRTUS.

Mr. Snowden,

There exists a sore evil in this part of the district, which, although severely felt and much complained of, has not yet been published. It is the system of seduction, if not kidnapping, which a gang of negro-buyers have adopted in Alexandria.

These traffickers in human flesh employ as agents slaves whom they have purchased, and purposely selected for their adroitness, to seduce family servants from their duty; and either by their ill conduct to induce their masters to sell them—or they go so far as to entice servants away, that they may be purchased on better terms running, or they are carried away altogether, clandestinely. These traffickers keep themselves in the back ground, knowing well that under our law a colored person, free or a slave, cannot give evidence against them. The community are therefore warned to watch these negro dealers, so as to lay hold of one for an example.

The hanging at Natchez of a person of considerable property for stealing a negro, ought to be a warning, particularly as the president resisted every application for a pardon to him.

Would it not be well for the corporation to adopt or rather put in force the laws of Virginia, as regards slaves remaining more than four hours in any suspicious houses?

Mr. Ten Cate, late Charge d' Affaires of H. M. the King of the Netherlands to the United States, presented his letters of recal on the 25th of August to the Secretary of State, and took leave of the government.—Viscount de Quabeck, his successor, being prevented by indisposition from proceeding to Washington before Monday last, presented his credentials to the Secretary of State at Philadelphia, on the 30th of August, and arrived at the seat of government the next day. [National Intelligencer.

Sugar, coffee, rum and molasses, may be exported from Bermuda in American vessels above sixty tons burthen. No other articles can be imported or exported in foreign vessels without subjecting the vessels and noxious articles to confiscation."

LATEST FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

The ship Sea-Fox, Fowler, of and for N. York, sailed from New-Orleans the 4th inst. and the Balize the 7th. Captains Cannon, Weatherstrand, J. W. King, and Mr. W. N. Harvey, came in the above vessel, but left her off Cape Henry and came up to this place yesterday in a pilot boat. By these gentlemen, the keeper of the Steam-Boat Hotel Reading Room Books has received New-Orleans papers of the 3d and 4th instant.

These gentlemen state that New-Orleans was more healthy than had been known at the same season for a number of years previous: business, however, was dull; a large number of vessels were in the river, but laid up, as no freights could be procured, the produce of the country having been all shipped off. On their passage down the river, spoke schr Commerce, Williams, hence for New-Orleans, who informed them of the circumstance of his having been robbed off the Berry Islands of 72 negroes; passed also about 30 sail of vessels all bound up, from northern ports, and all having had very long passages, one ship in particular, capt. Bunker, had a passage of 56 days from N. York—saw 2 ships and 2 brigs at the Balize waiting a wind to get in. Spoke on the 18th, off the Tortugas, brig Calypso, Boddily, from Savannah bound to New-Orleans, with slaves, out 14 days; 27th, off Charleston bound to that port, a schr from Alexandria, could not learn her name.

The notorious pirate, Mitchell, formerly of the Romp privateer, and who has lately been infesting the Mississippi with his barges, it was understood, had provided himself at the Balize with a sloop mounting 6 brass pieces, and was cruizing off the Bahamas, with a view of doing business on a larger scale. "Gentlemen—Our papers at this moment are so totally barren of interest, that the object of this is merely to forward you our Price Current, which you will observe offers some encouragement for rice, which is at D9 50 to 9 75 cash. "A destructive fire took place a few nights since at the ship yard. The Arsenal and all the public buildings, together with a large stock of naval stores and King's property were consumed. The loss is estimated at rising one million of dollars. It is (perhaps erroneously) alleged, that the fire was instigated by the commandant of the Arsenal, there being some long unsettled accounts with the King. The books were balanced in the readiest way possible, and new ones opened with a whacking debit to profit and loss!!!"

The committee to whom was referred the subject of drafting a Constitution to be submitted to the consideration of the Convention beg leave to report in part—the following preamble and Bill of rights.

PIERPONT EDWARDS, Chairman.

PREAMBLE.

The people of Connecticut acknowledging with gratitude the good Providence of God in having permitted them to enjoy a free government, do, in order more effectually to define, secure, and perpetuate the liberties, rights and privileges which they have derived from their ancestors, hereby, after a careful consideration and revision, ordain and establish the following Constitution and form of civil government.

ARTICLE. 1.

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

That the general, great, and essential principles of Liberty and free government may be recognized and established—

WE DECLARE,

Sec. 1. That all men when they form a social compact, are equal in rights; and that no man, or set of men, are entitled to exclusive separate public emoluments or privileges from the community.

Sec. 2. That all political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their benefit; and that they have at all times an undeniable and indefeasible right to alter their form of goverment in such manner as they may think expedient.

Sec. 3. The exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination, shall forever be free to all persons in this State, provided that the right hereby declared and established, shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness, or to justify practices inconsistent with the peace and safety of the State.

Sec. 4. No preference shall be given by law, to any religious sect or mode of worship.

Sec. 5. No person shall be molested for his opinion on any subject whatever, nor suffer any civil or political incapacity, or acquire any civil or political advantage, in consequence of such opinions, except in cases provided for in this Constitution.

Sec. 6. Every citizen may freely speak, write, and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the use of that liberty.

Sec. 7. No law shall ever be passed to curtail or restrain the liberty of speech, or of the press.

Sec. 8. In all prosecutions or indictments for libels, the truth may be given in evidence and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the Court.

Sec. 9. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possession, from unreasonable searches or seizures; and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or things, shall issue without describing them as nearly as may be, nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation.

Sec. 10. In all criminal prosecutions the accused hath a right to be heard by himself and by counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted by the witness against him; to have compulsory process to obtain witnesses in his favor; and in all prosecutions by indictment or information, a speedy, public trial by an impartial Jury. He cannot be compelled to give evidence against himself nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, but by due course of law.

Sec. 11. No person shall be accused, arrested, or detained, except in cases ascertained by law, and according to forms which the same has prescribed; and no person shall be punished but in virtue of a law established and promulgated prior to the offence and legally applied.

Sec. 12. The property of no person shall be taken for public use, without just compensation therefore.

Sec. 13. All courts shall be open, and every person, for any injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have remedy, by due course of law, and right and justice be administered without sale, denial, or delay.

Sec. 14. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed.

Sec. 15. All prisoners shall before conviction, be bailable by sufficient sureties except for capital offences, where the proof is evident, or the presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in case of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

Sec. 16. No person shall be attainted of Treason, or Felony, by the Legislature.

Sec. 17. The citizens have a right, in a peaceable manner to assemble together for their common good, and to apply to those invested with the powers of government, for redress of grievances, or other proper purposes, by petition, address or remonstrance.

Sec. 18. Every citizen has a right to bear arms in defence of himself and the state.

Sec. 19. The military shall in all cases, and at all times, be in strict subordination to the civil power.

Sec. 20. No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

Sec. 21. No hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors shall ever be granted, or conferred, in this State.

Sec. 22. No citizen of this State shall be exiled, or prevented from emigrating on any pretence whatever.

Sec. 23. The right of trial by Jury shall remain inviolate.

Extract of a letter to the Editor of the Boston Daily Advertiser, from a friend now in Europe, dated Loueche Baths, June 21, 1818.

Perhaps you will have seen some account of the inundation, which has just overwhelmed the fine village of Martigny, and may be curious to know more of the particulars of this disaster. Coming now from the scene of ruin, and being stopped on my way over the Gemmi, by a rain storm, I have thought that a leisure hour might not be ill employed in giving you a short history of this devastation. Martigny was a village in the Canton of the Valais, of about five hundred houses and three thousand inhabitants, situated upon the Rhone, exactly in the point where it changes its course from W. S. W. to N. N. W and where it receives the Dranse, a small but rapid river, arising in the Glaciers of St. Bernard and Mount Combin. The Glacier of the latter, called Chermontana is remarkable for its height, and for the distance it extends from the summit of the mountain—the water, which comes from it, trickles down from beneath, and soon unites in the crevice of an enormous mass of rocks, and forms the eastern branch of the Dranse, which flowing thro' the valley of Bagnes, is joined by the other branch at St. Branchier, and then continues its course through Martigny to the Rhone, as before described. This Glacier has been melting underneath for some time past—two years since considerable masses of it began to fall, but it was not till the beginning of the last month that any danger was apprehended from them—a huge block then fell and completely filled up the passage, by which a lake fifteen thousand feet long and eight hundred wide, was immediately formed, that rapidly increased in depth, and soon had more than two hundred feet of water.—This, as may be well supposed, excited great alarm, and the more, when they recollected what terrible destruction a similar obstruction had caused in 1545. Engineers were called to examine the Lake and devise some mode of gradually discharging it. They decided that the mass of ice, which blocked up the passage, must be perforated by a gallery, and the water led into the usual course of the Dranse—this was accordingly done—an hundred workmen immediately began cutting the Ice, and in the course of eight or ten days a gallery of a dozen feet square was finished, which promised to discharge the lake without danger. The grand Council of the Canton immediately gave notice, that nothing more was to be feared—but it was a fatal security—the rapid flow of the water soon enlarged the passage, and at length, in the afternoon of June 16th a large piece of the glacier suddenly broke off, and the lake instantly rushed down the valley carrying with it every thing which impeded its course. In one hour and a half this immense volume of water was at Martigny, a distance of twenty four miles from whence it started; and a descent of six feet to an hundred, upon an average—you will judge from this of the velocity and violence with which it moved; and as the valley is not enlarged but little, till the very entrance of this village, the overwhelming mass poured its full force upon it.

The rushing of the mighty waters was heard and reached the unhappy fugitive, before he could find a refuge from its fury—the fleetest horse could not flee before it—several who trusted to this means of escape, were overtaken, and lost; in fact, most of those who were in the fields and the streets were victims of the overwhelming flood;—a few escaped by springing on some neighboring tree, or seizing hold of some floating timber;—the greatest part of those who remained quietly in their houses escaped unhurt, for but a small number of houses were swept away, and those only which were built of wood—all the barns, stables, and such like light buildings were overthrown almost without an exception, and hence the number of horses and cattle lost was prodigious. I did not reach the spot until two days after the calamity, but I was fully in season to see how dreadful was the havoc which had been made. The great road upon the left bank of the Rhone being still impassible, I was obliged to climb over one of Rob Roy's passes, upon the other side, which brought me out to a hill upon the bank directly opposite the village—such a scene of ruin as then lay before me, I never before witnessed—the whole of the delightful valley around Martigny presented nothing but devastation—when I passed over it, I found every thing destroyed—not a blade of corn or spire of grass remained—heaps of ruins, parts of houses, uprooted trees, farming utensils, mechanic's tools, furniture, merchandize from the shops, carcases of cattle, and human bodies covered the plain which a few weeks before I had seen as smiling and as fair as nature could make it.

The water had not yet wholly subsided—in many places I had to wade above knee deep, by which I understood completely why so few had saved themselves by swimming, which was before a mystery to me; it was so cold, that after wading a few hundred feet in it, I could scarcely move my legs; of course, when the whole body was plunged in, it chilled so much, that it was impossible to make the exertion—beside which, the quantity of floating wood, offered another obstacle, for I observed that the bodies which I passed were terribly bruised and mangled, and from one the head was completely torn off.

Thus far the account of things is as I saw them myself; as usual, in times of such calamities, every one adds something to the tale of distress, and therefore I cannot say with any certainty how many lives were lost by this; in Martigny itself, probably not above fifty; in the other villages of the valley, I should think a great many more, but nothing is yet known from them, as it has been impossible to approach them. I made great exertions to climb over the mountains and reach the lake, but the fog came up so thick I could not go on, and with difficulty found my way back;—I was without a guide, not a person, in the village having courage enough to approach towards the scene of terror. In fact, so great was the fright, that the first messenger who was sent to know if the lake was entirely discharged, instead of going to the very spot to ascertain the fact, perched himself upon the top of a mountain several miles off, from which he spied with a glass the remains of the glacier, and some little water in the lake, and immediately sent word that a repetition of the same was to be expected, in consequence of which all the inhabitants of Martigny fled to the mountains, so that I found but a single house inhabited on my arrival there. A second messenger was sent, who had more courage than the first, and brought back account that the lake was completely emptied, and thus quieted the alarms. If I had not been kept at Geneva, to attend a boy's exhibition, I should have had the satisfaction of witnessing this grand scene in the moment of its representation; had I set out on Sunday morning, as I intended, I should have reach edthere exactly in time to have seen the approach of this flood of waters. I do not know of any thing which could be more sublime, than the rapid strides with which it advanced, and the giant force it exercised in sweeping away the obstacles which resisted it. I would not have had it take place for my pleasure, but as it did take place, I would have given the world to have been a spectator of it. It is melancholy to look upon the ruins which a destroying element has caused; but there is nothing grander in nature, than the sight of its march, while it is doing its work of destruction: Lot's wife shewed a natural taste, when she looked back upon Sodom and Gomorrah.

This is a curious place, from which I write to you; a sulpher spring was discovered here some centuries ago, which has since had the reputation of great virtues in cuticular complaints, and on that account much resorted to during the summer, notwithstanding the rawness of the climate, and the difficulty of access; it lies 5000 feet above the level of the sea, in one of the chasms of the Alps, and in the immediate neighbourhood of some immense glaciers, which make it extremely cold, even in midsummer. I would not have you think I have come here for my health, I never was better in my life than I now am; it is upon the route which leads from the Valais into the Canton of Berne, and very near the pass of the Gemmi, which is my particular object. I stopt to have fair weather to reach this summit, on account of the grand view which it commands. Bathing here is upon a very social establishment; all ages, ranks and sexes enter the baths together, which are very large, sufficient for a hundred or more at a time;—the invalids spend half a dozen hours in a day in them; where by the aid of a little floating table, they receive breakfast, dinner, &c. which serves also for books, news-papers, writing implements, or any thing they may use to divert or employ them. I have been in them this morning, but as it was very early, I did not find above fifty there, who received me very civilly, and even politely, into their society, in which one simple uniform of a long white robe destroyed all distinctions.

While I have been writing, the clouds have begun to disperse, and I have yet twenty miles over the mountains before I find another resting place.

Kendersteg, 7 P. M.

The fair promises which the weather made just as I was closing the foregoing part of my letter all proved deceptive. I got away from the Baths at one, and began to ascend the Gemmi in high spirits, all my hopes being fixed upon the magnificent view I should have of the southern chain of the Alps, from Mount Blanc to Rosa. After a toil of two hours, I found myself at the summit, prepared for the highest ecstacies, when to my great mortification and disappointment, before I had hardly taken a peep, a boundless field of fog came driving over the mountains, and shut every thing from my view; and the only pleasure I have since had, was to pursue my way by the side of a frozen lake, through miles of snow, in as drenching a rain as ever fell.—With all these difficulties, I walked the 20 miles in less than 6 hours, and never felt better than I do at the end of them.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of line fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON.

The Federal Republican, Richmond Enquirer, National Intelligencer, Winchester Gazette, Philadelphia Aurora, Lancaster Journal, and New-York Evening Post, will insert the above once a week for two months, and send their accounts to this office for payment.

Lands for Sale.

I WILL sell on accommodating terms the following very valuable property:

A tract of land containing 340 acres, lying on the Potomac River, at the mouth of Pomonkey Creek, about sixteen miles below the town of Alexandria: the larger portion of it is level land, with a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant scites for building, of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding an extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than thirty miles up and down the river—located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from the advantage of the best navigation and its proximity to market, an extremely profitable farm.—There are houses upon it for the comfortable accommodation of the negroes necessary for its cultivation. Plaster acts well on all the adjacent country.

A tract containing 334 acres lying about one mile back of the former, a large portion of it in wood—it is high, stiff land, in soil similar to the one abovementioned: upon this tract is a tenement in tolerable repair.

A tract containing 100 acres, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles below Alexandria. The whole of this is first rate river bottom, and now completely enclosed. On this tract is that well known fishery called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of 2000 dollars in one season, and where, independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season. Besides the profits of the fishery, is the advantage of Manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, from which, with industry, the whole may be annually manured, so as to produce at least ten barrels of corn to the acre. On the fishery shore is a dwelling house, and houses for boiling salt and curing any number of fish, and for the accommodation of the hands.

A tract containing 236 acres, lying about one and a half miles from the last mentioned tract, more than 200 acres of which are in wood, which would afford 20 cords, at least, per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has of late rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord.—It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots to suit purchasers.—If preferred the wood will be sold standing for so much per acre.

William Mason residing near the head of Mattawoman creek, about 7 miles from Porttobacco, will show the lands to those who may wish to see them.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of line fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

The Federal Republican, Richmond Enquirer, National Intelligencer, Winchester Gazette, Philadelphia Aurora, Lancaster Journal, and New-York Evening Post, will insert the above once a week for two months, and send their accounts to this office for payment.

Lands for Sale.

I WILL sell on accommodating terms the following very valuable property:
A tract of land containing 340 acres, lying on the Potomac River, at the mouth of Pomonkey Creek, about sixteen miles below the town of Alexandria: the larger portion of it is level land, with a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant scites for building, of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding an extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than thirty miles up and down the river—located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from the advantage of the best navigation and its proximity to market, an extremely profitable farm.—There are houses upon it for the comfortable accommodation of the negroes necessary for its cultivation. Plaster acts well on all the adjacent country.
A tract containing 334 acres lying about one mile back of the former, a large portion of it in wood—it is high, stiff land, in soil similar to the one abovementioned: upon this tract is a tenement in tolerable repair.
A tract containing 100 acres, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles below Alexandria. The whole of this is first rate river bottom, and now completely enclosed. On this tract is that well known fishery called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of 2000 dollars in one season, and where, independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season. Besides the profits of the fishery, is the advantage of Manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, from which, with industry, the whole may be annually manured, so as to produce at least ten barrels of corn to the acre. On the fishery shore is a dwelling house, and houses for holding salt and curing any number of fish, and for the accommodation of the hands.
A tract containing 236 acres, lying about one and a half miles from the last mentioned tract, more than 200 acres of which are in wood, which would afford 20 cords, at least, per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has of late rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord.—It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots to suit purchasers.—If preferred the wood will be sold standing for so much per acre.
William Mason residing near the head of Mattawoman creek, about 7 miles from Porttobacco, will show the lands to those who may wish to see them.

Mr. Snowden,

SIR—I saw in your paper of the 29th, that Mr. William Stoops says he means to take no further notice of my publications. I wish he had taken no notice of my timber that he bore off so clandestinely: then I should not had the trouble of advertising him. The timber he bore off was in the State of Maryland, and he lives in Virginia, therefore I had to sue him in Alexandria, otherwise I should have presented him to the grand jury. The reason I made it public is, I intend to apply for a writ of replevy to regain back my timber.

50 Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber on Saturday night the 27th ult, a Negro man by the name of JACOB THOMPSON, aged 22 or 23, nearly 6 feet high, very black, and rather a down look when spoken to—he is very apt to put one hand up to his chin when answering questions. He is a very submissive orderly fellow—His clothing that can be recollected consisted of a blue second cloth coat with yellow buttons, nearly new; Russia sheeting shirts and trowsers, and a variety of other clothing not recollected. I fully expect he must have from 150 to 200 dollars with him in money—and very little doubt but he had furnished himself with free papers. Whoever takes up the said fellow, secures him in jail, and retains all moneys and papers he may have on him, shall be entitled to the money found on him, and the above reward if taken out of the District; or twenty dollars if taken within the District of Columbia. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Advertisement.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 15th inst. Negro woman TREACE or TREACY—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful, she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq.; and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Rober Brent, esqrs. and Mr. Dudley Diggs. Negro Treace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a seaton put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender.

Lexington for Sale.

THIS estate, containing two thousand three hundred and fifty acres, more or less, being one half of the well known tract of land commonly called "Mason's Neck," situated on the Potomac, in the county of Fairfax, Virginia, is now offered for sale. About two-thirds of it is covered with an uncommon heavy growth of white and bl'k oak, hickory, pine, poplar, &c. near the water's edge, whence it may be transported to the markets of the district of Columbia, (a distance of 20 miles only) where timber and fuel are always in demand, and without the expense and risk encountered in conveying those articles from situations further down the river: the remainder is in cultivation, and furnished with every necessary building for that purpose; together with orchards and a blacksmith's shop. The other improvements are a spacious and elegant dwelling-house, kitchen, dairy, smoke-house, office, ice-house, a well of excellent water, and a failing garden, of the most tasteful and costly design, filled with the rarest and most beautiful shrubberies and flowers, exotic and indigenous, all situated on an eminence, commanding a view of the rest of the tract, which extends in an unintercepted plain from the foot of the eminence to the Potomac and Occoquan, by which it if so far bounded as to render the expense of enclosing it comparatively nothing. The prospect, moreover, of the surrounding country, diversified in every direction by sheets of water, is really beautiful beyond description. There are likewise attached to this estate four valuable however, the subscriber intends to reserve one of them and a few acres of land. The woods abound with deer in such numbers, that with a little care a gentleman might command a constant supply of venison for his table; and besides the large streams abovementioned, the various creeks and inlets that every where intersect the land are covered in the proper season with wild fowl of every description known in our waters. When to all these advantages is added the great natural fertility of the land, which is not exceeded perhaps in the western country, its adaption to improvement by the use of plaster, which has been proved by experiment, its vicinity to society, to market, to two manufacturing grist-mills, to which the distance of conveyance by land and water is not more than 5 or 6 miles, it may with truth be pronounced the most valuable estate, of the same extent, in the whole range of country watered by the Potomac. It will be sold entire or divided to suit purchasers.

The terms of sale will be one-third of the purchase money in hand, the remaining 2-3ds in two equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale, secured by a deed of trust on the land—which will be shewn in my absence to any person disposed to purchase, by Mr. William Allison or Mr. Weston, residing on the premises.

August 31 WILLIAM MASON.

For Sale,

UNDER an act of the Legislature of Virginia, passed on the 21st day of February, 1818, all that part of a tract of land lying in the county of Fairfax, and commonly called Retirement, to which the widow and heirs of the late Walter D. Brooke are entitled; as well their interest in that part which has been allotted to Ann Brooke for her dower, as that part of which the said widow and heirs are now in possession. The sale will be made at public auction on the premises near where the stage road crosses Dogues Run, on Thursday the 17th of September next, if fair, if not the next fair day. The terms are one half cash, the balance on a credit of twelve months.

BILL IN CHANCERY.

James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. The object of the bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate. Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non-residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to shew cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed.

For Sale,

A valuable Farm in Jefferson county, Virginia.

BY virtue of a decree of the superior court of chancery for the Richmond district in Virginia, in a suit wherein the executors of General George Washington were plaintiffs, and Gerard Alexander, Thomas L. Alexander, (by Ludwell Lee, his appointed guardian in this case) Ludwell Lee, Richard H. L. Washington, John A. Washington, Bushrod C. Washington and Mary Lee Washington, defendants—will be exposed to sale to the highest bidder, for ready money, on the premises, on TUESDAY, the 15th day of September next, all that tract or parcel of Land, lying in Jefferson county, Virginia, on Bullskin, commonly called Rockhall containing 540 acres, now in the occupation of John Sanders.

The above tract of land lies about 16 miles from Winchester, and about 6 miles from Charlestown, and on the main road leading from Winchester to Baltimore, city of Washington and Alexandria. It is well adapted to plaster and clover, and is in quality little inferior, if at all, to that of any farm in that rich valley. The improvements on it are a large two-story frame dwelling house, barn and other necessary out houses.—The water is limestone and of excellent quality.

Any person wishing to view the premises will be shown them upon application to John A. Washington or Bushrod C. Washington, living near the land.

600 acres of Land for sale.

THIS Tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garnett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. A considerable proportion of the land is well timbered, besides a good deal of cedar, pine and other wood, sufficiently convenient to make it an object for those who may be disposed to send it to market—it is nearly equi-distant from Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk.

Any one wishing to purchase may apply to ROGER JONES,

Alexandria.

Also, a very valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, being a part of the late Mr. John Tarberville's tract—within 6 miles of Georgetown, 3 from the Little Falls Bridge, and near to the turnpike leading from thence to Wiley's, in Fairfax county, Va. A great proportion of this land is exceedingly well timbered, and that part which is not, is so recently cleared as to be in an active state for cultivation, and already in a productive condition.—For terms, apply to PHILIP C. JONES, esq. in Leesburg, Va. or to R. JONES.

Charles County Court,

March Term, 1818.

ON application to Charles county court by petition in writing of John Smith, of Charles county, for the benefit of the act of assembly for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned therein, a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the court being satisfied by competent testimony that the said Jno. Smith has resided two years immediately preceding the time of his application, in the state of Maryland, and being also satisfied that the said John Smith is in actual confinement for debt, and the said John Smith having entered into bond with sufficient security for his personal appearance in Charles county court, to answer such allegations as his creditors may make against him—It is therefore ordered and adjudged that the said John Smith be discharged from imprisonment; and that by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some one of the newspapers edited in the District of Columbia, once a week for two months successively before the third Monday of August next, he give notice to his creditors to appear before the said Court, at Charlestown, in said county, on the said third Monday of August next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to show cause why the said John Smith should not have the benefit of the several insolvent laws as prayed. Given under my hand this 20th day of June 1818.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.

III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terez or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Oucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometime privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fætid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.
